Privacy and security

What ArrHub holds about a subscriber: Name, work email, company, and subscription status. Card details are handled by Stripe; ArrHub does not receive or store card numbers.

Where it is held:

- website hosting: Vercel, Washington, D.C., United States (region iad1)
- database: Supabase, Montréal, Canada (region ca-central-1)
- email delivery: Resend, from alerts.arrhub.com
- analytics: Google Analytics 4

What ArrHub does not do: It does not accept customer uploads, does not store customer data beyond the above, and does not sell or share subscriber information.

Access: Limited to the editor.

Your rights: Access, correction and deletion on request to privacy@arrhub.com, under Canada's PIPEDA and, where it applies, the GDPR.

Retention: For the life of the subscription and 12 months after the subscription ends, unless the law requires longer.

Continuity

ArrHub's records come from public registers, and its pipeline runs on a weekly schedule without manual steps. Subscribers can download every issue they receive, as PDF and as data. If ArrHub stops publishing the weekly during a paid term, the unused portion of that term is refunded pro rata.
